Let us be serious and ponder the statement of Teddy Roosevelt appearing on the first page. In the light of that sage observation (far truer now, no doubt, than when the statement was made), hear what comes from a member.....Luella Diekhoff.

THE VALUE OF BELONGING

What do I get from a membership in the National Association of Educational Secretaries?

1. The satisfaction of being a part of a national professional group who constantly strive to improve competence through professional in-service training.
2. Involvement in a professional standards program which recognizes and encourages
 - a. educational opportunities,
 - b. skill acquired through experience, and
 - c. professional activity through UNOPA, the Nebraska Educational Secretaries Association, and the National Association of Educational Secretaries.
3. The position of educational office employees is enhanced through the National organization because
 - a. many national "heads" are better than one local "head" in providing meaningful guidelines for any organization.
 - b. there is strength in unity when seeking compensation for
 - (1) uniform standards of skill,
 - (2) experience,
 - (3) leadership and responsibility.
 - c. doors are open for an impressive number of people by reason of their potential power and influence.
 - d. a large membership can provide greater opportunities for learning and training through brochures, the national magazine, regional meetings, the annual institute, workshops, conventions, etc.
 - e. the national organization has the talent, know-how, and prestige to get support and recognition for educational office employees.
4. The opportunity to participate in an income protection plan (which the University has not made available to classified personnel).

We may report that the September meeting of UNOPA, held on the East Campus, was an excellent start for the new year. Eighty members and guests attended. Jan Wacker commented, all too briefly, on the National convention in Denver in July.

We welcome Darlene Lowenstein back to UNOPA membership. Darlene attempted to relate some of the experiences of their two-year assignment in Eastern Turkey. Darlene, you can't get off that easy. You must make a second appearance to tell us more!

It's the same old story in UNOPA. . .not sufficient time for a once-a-month meeting. Everyone keep chugging -- we may reach a solution yet one day.

The minutes of the September meeting follow. Do read them. This presentation constitutes the reading of the minutes in order to save even a few minutes in our monthly meetings:

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA OFFICE PERSONNEL ASSOCIATION -- MINUTES
 September 18, 1968

The University of Nebraska Office Personnel Association opened its 1968-1969 year with a noon meeting at the East Campus Cafeteria. There were 80 members and guests present.

The business meeting was called to order by President Lila McCoy. The minutes of the May meeting were read by the secretary, Charlotte Jackson. The treasurer, Edna Shimerda reported $110.75 operating balance on hand to date.

Committee chairmen were introduced by the president. All members who had special guests were asked to introduce them. All new members were asked to stand.

Virginia Herrod from the Cornhusker Chapter of Educational Secretaries was a special guest. She announced that the State Meeting of Educational Secretaries would be held Oct. 25 at East High. The Fall Regional Meeting of NAES will be in Richmond, Virginia Oct. 11-13 this year.

Jan Wacker gave a most interesting report of the National Educational Secretaries Meeting in Denver, July 18-21.

Katherine Lewis introduced Louise Hewell, program chairman for the September meeting, who presented her committee, Marion Gronquist, Ann Hughes and Orba Schreurs. Door prizes were awarded to: Jan Lauck, Doris Taylor, Judy McConnell and Virginia Howett.

Louise then introduced the guest speaker, Darlene Lowenstein, who returned to the United States on June 30 after spending two years in Eastern Turkey. Darlene, who is a past president of UNOPA, gave us a very interesting talk, illustrated with pictures on the scenery, people and their way of living while they were in Turkey. She had placed on the tables and around the room many interesting and beautiful items that she collected while there. Time did not permit her going into depth about her experiences, however, she did consent to speak to us at another time.

Meeting adjourned.
